

Course Identification Numbering System (C-ID)

November 2010 – Articulation Officer Update

Finalized Course Descriptors: Sociology can now be added to the list of disciplines with finalized descriptors (along with Agriculture and Communication Studies)

Please encourage your respective discipline faculty to log-on to www.c-id.net and review the draft and finalized descriptors. Course outlines of record may now be submitted by CCC AOs for intersegmental review.

SPRING 2011 DIG (Discipline Input Group) Session Dates Announced

- Please encourage YOUR faculty to attend and participate in this important project
- Discipline Input Groups (DIGs) will be convened February 25 (North) and March 11 (South) to finalize descriptors and initiate discussions of CCC degrees in response to SB 1440.
- We are currently planning on convening:
Accounting
Business
Economics
Computer Science
Political Science
Music
Math
English

AO participation in the DIGs is important

- We hope to have one articulation officer to serve with each of the discipline groups in the North and the South
- AOs are a critical link between the CCC and four-year faculty who are attending the DIGs
- AOs have a clear understanding of the practical details surrounding the articulation process
- AOs are directly familiar with concerns from the students, faculty and staff
- Please contact Pam at pam@c-id.net if you have any questions

Four-year College Process

- Go to www.c-id.net
- Review the finalized descriptors (AG, Sociology & Communication Studies)
- Determine comparable courses at your campus
- If a determination is made by discipline faculty to articulate or fast-track courses with C-ID designations, communicate this commitment to Katey@asccc.org or await the forthcoming request for Articulation of the finalized descriptors by the C-ID office
- If a determination is made not to articulate due to concerns about the descriptors, please communicate this to C-ID (katey@asccc.org)
- When the determination is made by the discipline faculty to accept C-ID descriptors for your comparable courses, the C-ID office will request this course data and it will be displayed on the C-ID website.

FDRG (Intersegmental discipline faculty) Training for review of CoRs for Communication Studies and Sociology will be held on November 19, 2010 – ALL CoRs for Comm Studies and Sociology need to be submitted by no later than November 18.

Community College Process

- Go to www.c-id.net
- Review the finalized descriptors (AG, Communication Studies, Sociology)
- Determine which comparable courses your campus offers
- If your faculty are willing to accept a C-ID course in lieu of your native course (intra-segmental articulation) then a C-ID designation should be sought.
- Course outlines may then be submitted for review under the “Course Review” tab (each CCC AO should have received a log-in and password)
- CoRs will be reviewed by at least 2 faculty reviewers from different segments
- Notification of course approval or recommendations (if any) for additional information will be sent to the Articulation Officer
- CCC courses that have already been granted a TCSU number will be given the associated C-ID designation
- Where “C-ID based” articulation with 4 year campuses has been established, the community college will gain that articulation
- The respective C-ID number(s) will be posted on the C-ID website in a format similar to the CAN matrix and will eventually be displayed on ASSIST
- All AOs should their log-in and password for course submission? If you have misplaced it contact katey@asccc.org

REMINDER: Have your faculty signed up for their Discipline List Serve on the C-ID website? It just takes a minute to sign-up and it will keep them up-to-date with their discipline's progress.
